Southern Studio Moved to Cary

Southern Studio
www.southernstudio.com

Interior designer Vicky Serany has moved her design studio to Cary. Southern Studio has taken up residence in a 4,200-square foot home that was built in 1951 and the restored home has been completely reconfigured with offices, a design studio, a showroom and client gathering spaces. Serany, a longtime Cary resident, said that with their new studio they could host events and participate in other happenings with the town.
