

JULIE EVANS JEI DESIGN INC.

When curating a design, our first and most important goal is to please the client. We hand craft spaces to best suit each individual client, which in turn makes each of our designs unique and distinct. We strive to construct designs that provide solutions for all of our clients' needs while also bringing their ideas and dreams to life. In the end, we hope to have created a space that is beyond what our clients envisioned.

We recently designed Bumble's Headquarters in Austin. The objective was to produce an office space that was fun and inviting, but also feminine and empowering. They wanted their headquarters to embody their brand and everything they stand for. Pulling from their brand colors of yellow, coral, mint and pink, we created a striking look. Layers of textures and patterns were then added to provide depth and variety. Custom aspects, such as the wallpaper and pillows, were selected to add a personal touch. We incorporated durable materials and furniture that were not only aesthetically pleasing, but also functional and comfortable, to best accommodate day to day activities and large events. The result was a work space that was bright, fun and interactive. ♦
